ENGLISH COMMUNICATION LABORATORY

Language Laboratory – Students exposing their skills

The English language lab would help the students to enhance their communication skill and their knowledge over the English language. This computer based lab helps to improve listening, speaking, reading, and writing skills. The lab is equipped with visual board and modern media devices to ensure learning experience. In language laboratory all students present and practice aloud simultaneously using lead mike and cordless mike. It helps to learn pronunciation accent, stress and all other aspects of the phonetics of a language. Amplifier used to adjust the volume of the program source for the comfortable listening. A headset provided the students to listen the TV news, short stories, and Indian British and American speeches. The use of headphone gives a sense of isolation, intimate contact with the language and equal clarity of sound to all students and facilitates complete concentration. The language course materials are already fed into the computer that is display through the projector or television. With the aid of a projector videos or photograph become more enjoyable and students can easily learn by fun way. Further easily zoom in or zoom out the image to clear the vision and to search minor points. CD's helps to acquire sensibility for sound and rhythm of language and postures. Web sources are provide to the students make them to update their knowledge.
